

Beyond Vivid Memory

One morning,
still as a child then,
I woke with an overwhelming desire to become a poet.

On the way out of the house
I took along a pencil and some pages to write upon.

Decades later,
I have not been home
since.

March 5th, '03
C. Mehrhoff