

I do not ask to be blessed.
I ask for the strength to hold the blessing.

I do not write.
I merely trace what pieces of the language that seem to want to darken up the page.

I extend my hand,
a perch,
not for the bird
but for the music of the bird.

Jan. 20th, '03
C. Mehrhoff